Student Life

Bon Fire Sparks Homecoming

This year homecoming was ignited with a bonfire. This was the first spark of victory. Fort Wayne Elmhurst suffered a defeat on October 12. Homecoming at Marian wasn't just celebrated with a game, but also with flowers, a court, and a dance.

Despite cold winds and snow flurries, Marian spirit couldn't be dampened. Throughout the game cheers never ceased. Although the usual floats were not present, seniors created their own float by pulling Julie Holt in a wagon.

At half time Eileen O'Hagan, escorted by Tim Conner, was crowned Homecoming Queen. Other members of the court were seniors Hendrina Micola and Andy Bauer, Laurie Banes and Bob Goerke, juniors Meghan Considine and Jeff Ryan, Mary Nommay and Des Schillinger, sophomores Karen Humes and Phil Pairitz, and freshmen Jackie Holt and Tod Leinenbach.

After the game, all the members of the court were honored at the dance. It was a memorable night.

SPIRIT COMES ALIVE

An enthusiastic Spirit Week gave a much-needed change in routine to end February. Everyone was challenged to be creative in their costumes and hall decorations, which were judged at the end of the week.

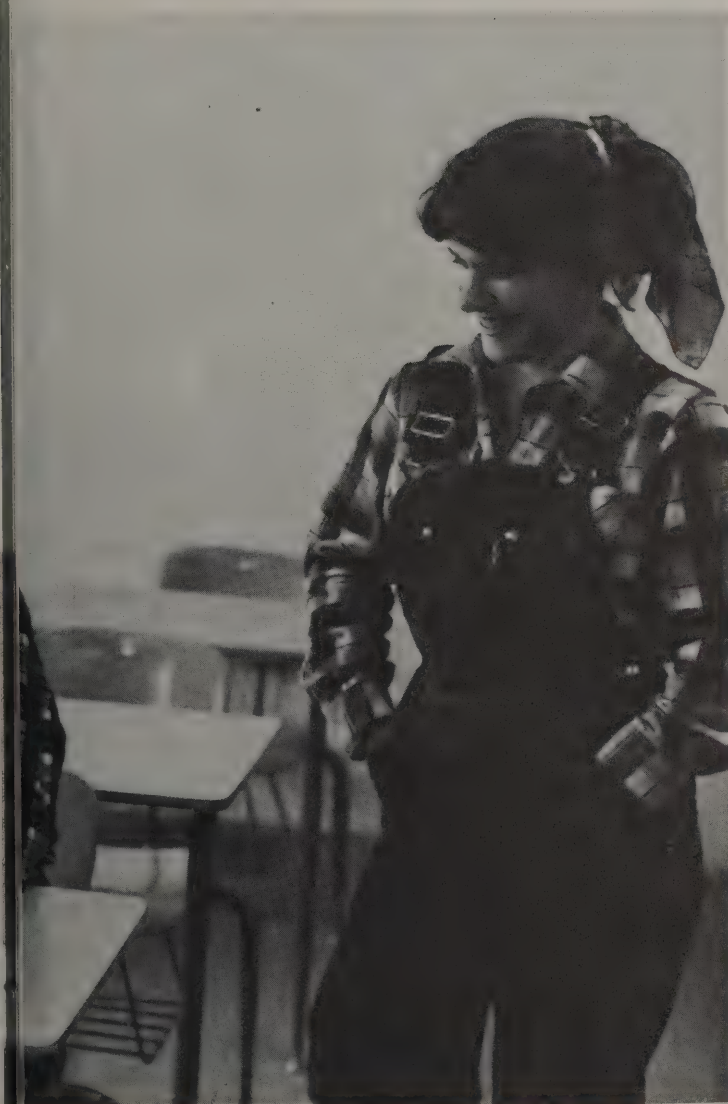

Seniors began the surprises with their unexpected Tie Day. From the many psychedelic combinations the most eye-catching tie was worn by Tim Balint. Hero Day costumes were diverse and included numerous togas, particularly among Political Thought students, wild wild westerners, teachers, and Winter Olympic Athletes, especially Hockey players.

Farmer Day traditionally fell on the day of the Penn basketball game. Teachers and students alike dressed in Levis or overalls, work shoes, flannel shirts, straw hats and even Penn sweaters.

The long awaited Theme Day ended the week. Freshmen chose a bit of (con't on P. 136)

Ghosts, Goblins And The Great Pumpkin

Given the chance, faculty and students love to act like kids, even if it's just for a day. Halloween Day let the "spooks" come out and have fun. Costumes ranged from traditional witches, scarecrows and bums to clowns, cowboys and flashers. Near the end of the day, the best costumes were announced, chosen on the basis of originality.

Not being able to recognize friends behind their masks was part of the spirit of the day, along with laughter and scares. Ending October in this way was the Student Council's unique idea. Hopefully, this day will become a part of the Marian tradition.

Entertainment, Gambling At Its Best

Many different acts were performed at the 1980 talent show. With the hard work of many participants, the show was bound for success. The acts included singers, dancers, actors, instrumentalists, and Mr. Geyer hopelessly trying to get a laugh. Overall, Mr. Geyer's dedication created a very entertaining evening.

The next night at the annual "Las Vegas Night", gamblers tried their luck. With Black Jack, HiLo, poker, mice races, and "Fantasy Island", the Marian gym seemed to be a mid-west Nevada. Sponsored by the National Honor Society and the Student Council, this event was a huge success.

Dances

This school year was highlighted by numerous dances held in the gym. They provided the underclassmen with a place to go on weekend nights.

The various dances held included a get-acquainted-dance, a homecoming dance, and a Sadie Hawkins dance, where the girl asked the guy out.

"WE'VE GOT TONIGHT"

This year's prom was held May 17 in the Century Center in South Bend, Indiana. It was an evening not soon to be forgotten by anyone who attended. Upon entering the Century Center, each couple was given a pair of glasses with the words, "We've Got Tonight," inscribed upon them, serving as a reminder that that was the theme of the night. Couples danced to the music of Ruffcut on the dimly lit floor and afterwards were found chatting among friends while in line to have their pictures taken.

The prom was organized by the junior class under the leadership of its officers, Joel Goosens, Kathy Curran, Des Schillinger, and Jenny Holt, as well as Mr. Rethlake and Mrs. Hayden, the class sponsors. Careful and exact preparations made the evening a definite success. It was a memorable way in which to wish the seniors good-bye.

New Approaches Seen In Liturgies

To encourage student participation in the liturgies, new approaches were tried this year. They ranged from slide presentations, liturgical dance and mime performances, and musical improvements (thanks to the liturgical musicians and the Franciscans) to simply having smaller groups in attendance at one time.

Masses and paraliturgies were celebrated on the holy days, the day Bishop McManus spent with us, and the Community Day of Fast before Thanksgiving. There were also Penance and Lenten services. Through these many experiences we have been exposed to Christian living and have been challenged to strengthen our faith and live it daily.

Time To Reflect, Look Ahead, Enjoy

Scheduled in February and March, this year's retreats gave an opportunity for restless students to get away and do something different.

The days Frosh. and Sophs. each spent at Mt. Alverno were under the direction of Fr. Steve Gibson and Sr. Deanne Zawadski. The theme "Reach Out" was developed in the discussion groups led by volunteer parents. At the liturgies, Mr. Reynold's Mime Group and Francine Eckrich performed parables and a liturgical dance, respectively.

Jrs. and Srs. had optional overnight retreats at Ancilla Domini in Donaldson, IN. Director Fr. Marty Hunkler worked with the Jrs. and the theme was "God, the World, and Our Place in it". With the help of Fr. Tom McDermott, Srs. focused on what their four years together have meant, and what lies ahead. There were many positive responses from both Jrs. and Srs. to the discussions, skits, posters, and time spent praying and reflecting.

"J. PAUL II—WE LOVE YOU"

On October 5, 1979 many students got a chance to experience a once-in-a-lifetime day. They boarded the South Shore train early in the morning in hopes of seeing Pope John Paul II. The two hour train trip was filled with singing and anticipation, and passed quickly.

When the 65 students and adults reached Chicago they walked to Grant Park, along with swarms of other "pilgrims" to await the coming of our Holy Father. Their seven hour wait for the Pope was spent playing cards, talking, and just dreaming. When the Pope finally arrived the crowd cheered "Long Live the Pope!" As he began to speak, an incredible hush fell over the entire crowd.

Most likely, never again will those students ever experience such an event. They will have fond memories of the Pope who even acknowledged the sign they brought bearing the words, "Dzien Dobry", which means "Good Day!" in Polish. For all those who went, the "pilgrimage" to Chicago was an unforgettable experience, and will remain imprinted in their minds for many years to come.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEMBERS ACTIVE, DEDICATED

Moderated by Sister Arlene, our Student Council was composed of dedicated individuals concerned with the welfare of our school.

Leadership was an important trait for our Student Council members to have. They had to voice the opinions of their fellow students and set a good example for all to follow.

The main goal of the council was to unite the students, thus improving the school and community as a result.

In appreciation for years of dedication as an office secretary, the council presented Mrs. Sullivan a plaque when she retired. They also donated money to the Cambodian relief fund. At a meeting with Bishop McManus the students voiced views of the good and bad points of school life. Compared to last year, there were more improvements and positive points discussed.

Spirit week in February and Las Vegas Night in April were big events organized by the council.

Ski Club Interest Grows

Due to the lack of snow this winter, the ski club did not have a chance to get in much skiing. The usual weekly trips to Royal Valley were often postponed.

The highlight of the year was a weekend ski trip over Christmas vacation. Here, the members of the ski club were able to enjoy winter at its best.

This year's ski club was under the direction of Mr. James DeVreese.

CHESS CLUB

The Chess Club allows chess enthusiasts to meet informally during the winter months on a regular basis to practice and develop their game. In the spring members enter teams in the State Chess Tournament. This year two teams entered the regional competition, finishing in 7th place and 15th place in a field of 18 teams.

Standing: G. Krucina, J. Fischer, L. Galup, S. Gillen, E. Galos, Sitting: M. Spretnjak, N. Koyani, J. Inwood, B. Berta.

MIME GROUP

The mime group was formed this year through a class project in Mr. Reynold's Religion I. The group, comprised of twelve members, presented up-dated versions of the parables at the Freshman/Sophomore retreats, school liturgies, Mother's Club, feeder schools, convents and local churches. This group found that presenting the Lord's word in mime was exciting, rewarding and meaningful to themselves as well as their audiences.

IMPROVING THE SPIRITUAL ATMOSPHERE

The Liturgical Planning Committee and Liturgical Musicians were formed to increase student participation in and upgrade the quality of the liturgies.

The committee was responsible for planning all the masses and services this year. The Community Day of Fast collected food and money for local needy families at Thanksgiving, the Christmas service had a special slide presentation and the extensive Lenten Program raised $300 for the Cambodians.

Under the direction of Mr. Yoder the musicians proved the importance of music as a form of worship. Together, the musicians and committee contributed much to improve the spiritual atmosphere.

Concerts, Cultural Assemblies, And Bomb Threats

This year, the Marian students enjoyed numerous cultural assemblies. They included "Our Town" by Mary Louise Hickey, an Ohio concert band, an assembly on drug abuse, slides from Thailand, Marian band and choir concerts, and a letter reading from Fr. Schooler during a bomb threat.

Upper right: Concert band plays for the audience.

Teachers Entertain Students For A Change

The faculty showed the Marian student body their talent once again this year with their rendition of the Charles M. Schultz classic: Merry Christmas Charlie Brown. Mr. DeVlieghe had his same old role of narrator. Father Schultze had the lead again. He portrayed Charlie Brown, and as usual Father Schultze didn't know his lines. On the whole, the play was as interesting as could be expected.

Enthusiastic Cast Successful

The Spring Musical this year was the Broadway classical "Mame!". Mr. Robert Van Goey directed with the assistance of Riley O'Callaghan. Mr. Roger Voelker led the pit orchestra and Maureen Morin guided the stage crew.

The plot revolves around Patrick Dennis, played by Scott Harding and Joel Gossens, and his aunt Mame Dennis, played by Maria Veldman. A large cast was highlighted by the performances of Heidi Rosenbaum, Lori Stolte, Mark Piekarski, Bruce Lengacher, Karen Hosinski, Deborah Peters and Angie Wolfe.

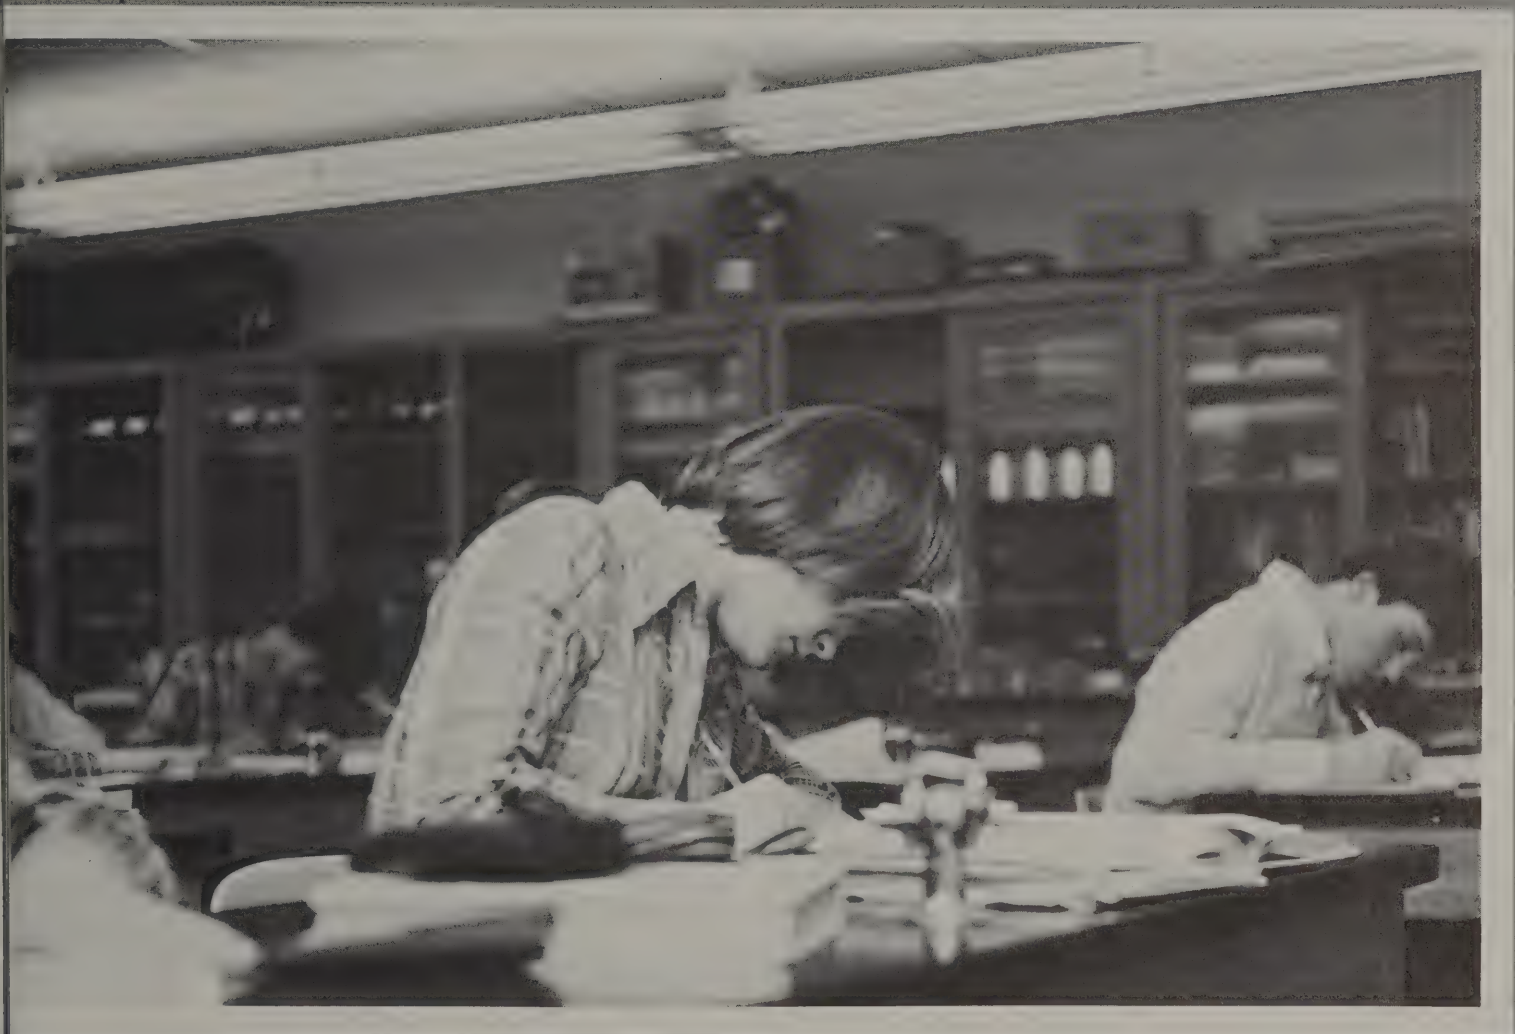

Other memorable performances were rendered by Lucio DelPrete, Danny Cleaver, Michael Spretnjak, Eric Swanson, Wendy Como, and Kathleen O'Keefe. Special appearances were made by Rev. William Schooler and Mr. John Kovatch. John Bradford, Tim Shea, Lisa Shaffer, Kathy Lawton, Colleen Shannon, Mary Theresa Daher, Katie McMahon, and Ken Hosinski rounded out the cast.

Academics

RELIGION

Under the leadership of Father Schooler, the religion department focused on the importance of having a strong relationship with God.

The freshmen and sophomores attended a retreat on Mount Alverno. The junior and senior retreats were held in Donaldson, Ind. Masses, Days of Recollection, and special programs all contributed to bringing Marian students closer to God.

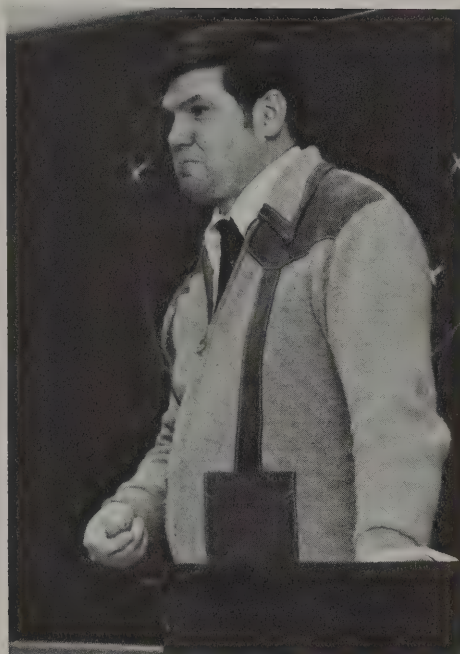

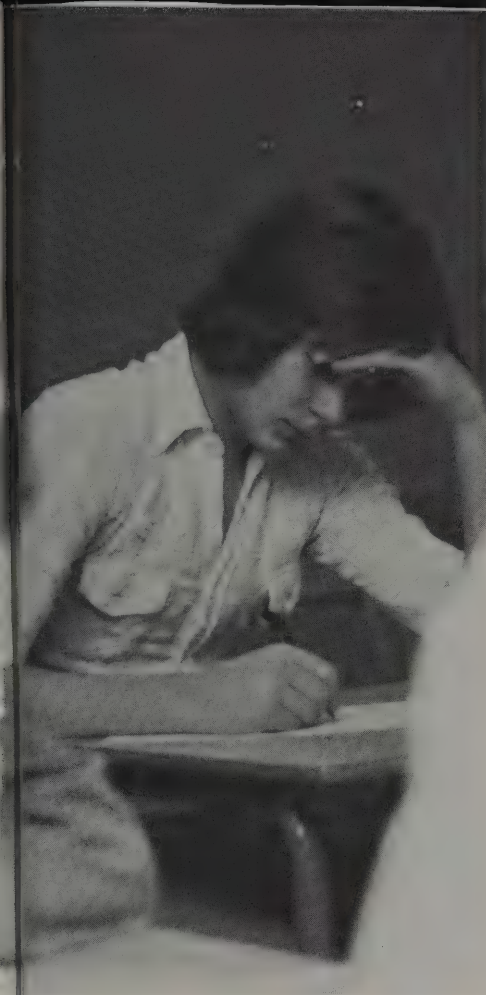

The religion department had its less-serious times, though. "Uncle Finley's Fireside Chats", "Little Bunny Foo-foo", and contests to see who can keep Father Schooler off the subject for the longest time can never be forgotten.

Social Studies

The progress of man from the time of his cave-dwelling ancestors (remember the "Java Man"? ) to his modern day development was studied by the social studies department this year. The classes ranged from "Introduction to Social Studies" (freshman year), to Western Civilization (sophomore year), to U.S. History (junior year), and finally to Government (senior year). Electives offered to seniors included Economics, Sociology, and Political Thought.

Many different techniques were used to educate the students. Along with the usual textbook, magazines, newspapers, filmstrips, and movies (who could ever forget Alistar Cooke?) were all utilized.

English

Mr. Van Goey headed the English department this year. Other teachers included Mrs. Daley, Mr. Wurfel, Mr. Wilson, Mrs. DeBoer, and Mr. Kocsis.

Freshmen take either Basic English I or English I, which involves concentrated grammar and vocabulary skills.

Sophomores are given a choice between Basic English and English II. The writing of essays is the main purpose of these classes.

The juniors and seniors may take Rhetoric, British and American Literature, or World Literature. The seniors are also offered Practical English while the juniors are offered General English.

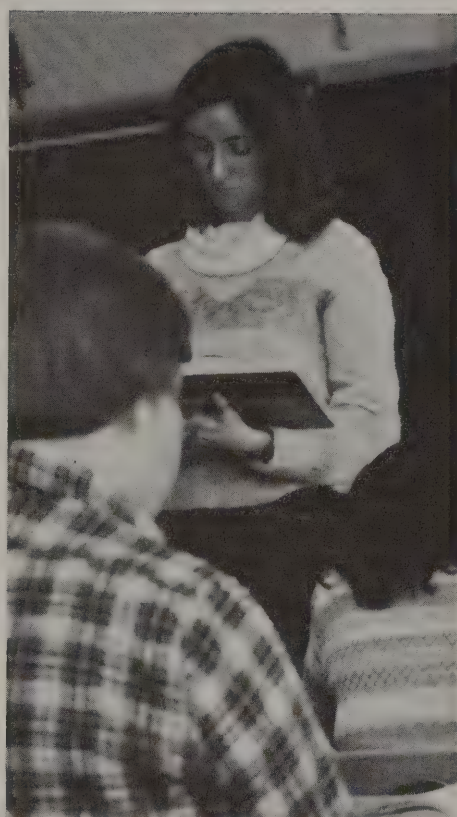

Rhetoric classes practice writing and speaking skills. Literature classes read various novels, poems, and plays. Both practical English and Basic English classes involve the use of fundamental grammar rules.

Languages

The foreign language department heard some new voices this year. Mrs. Vanderheyden and Mrs. Ross have taken over Mrs. "O"'s and Mrs. Ervin's responsibilities, whereas Mrs. Foss continues her role as Spanish teacher. The students also benefitted from the cultural experience brought by Juan, Mario, Marta, and Sabina, our foreign exchange students.

Besides their usual classroom studies, the foreign language classes were involved in various out-of-class activities. In November, the French class travelled to Chicago to see the Toulouse-Lautrec art exhibit. Afterwards they dined at Jardin de Jacques. In December the students carolled in the halls and sang at the para-liturgy ushering in the Christmas spirit.

Math

The math department offered a wide variety of subject matter this year, including Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, and Calculus.

While Father Schulze wasn't drawing his circles, he was teaching Algebra, Geometry, and General Math. Mr. McNally taught Calculus, Algebra, and Algebra Trig. He also taught his classes the art of "punting" and doing "whatever floats your boat". Mr. Krucina taught Algebra, Geometry, and Analytic Geometry.

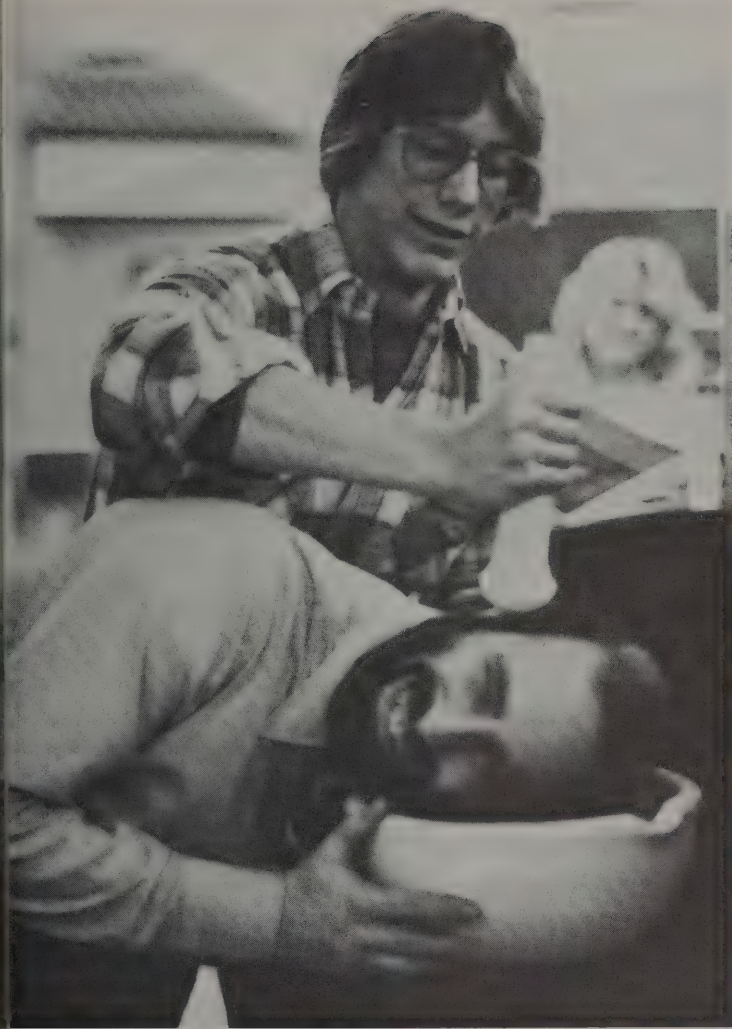

The students had an opportunity to work and study at many different levels. Classes were offered for the college-preparatory, as well as for those who are not college-bound.

Science

Many classes were offered this year to those students who questioned whether or not a blade of grass was really green.

Earth Science classes went on a "cave trip" to Sullivan, Ind. Although intended to be educational, it ended up being a day of playing in mud and meeting bats.

Biology involved microscopic observations, dissections (those poor frogs!), and making wine.

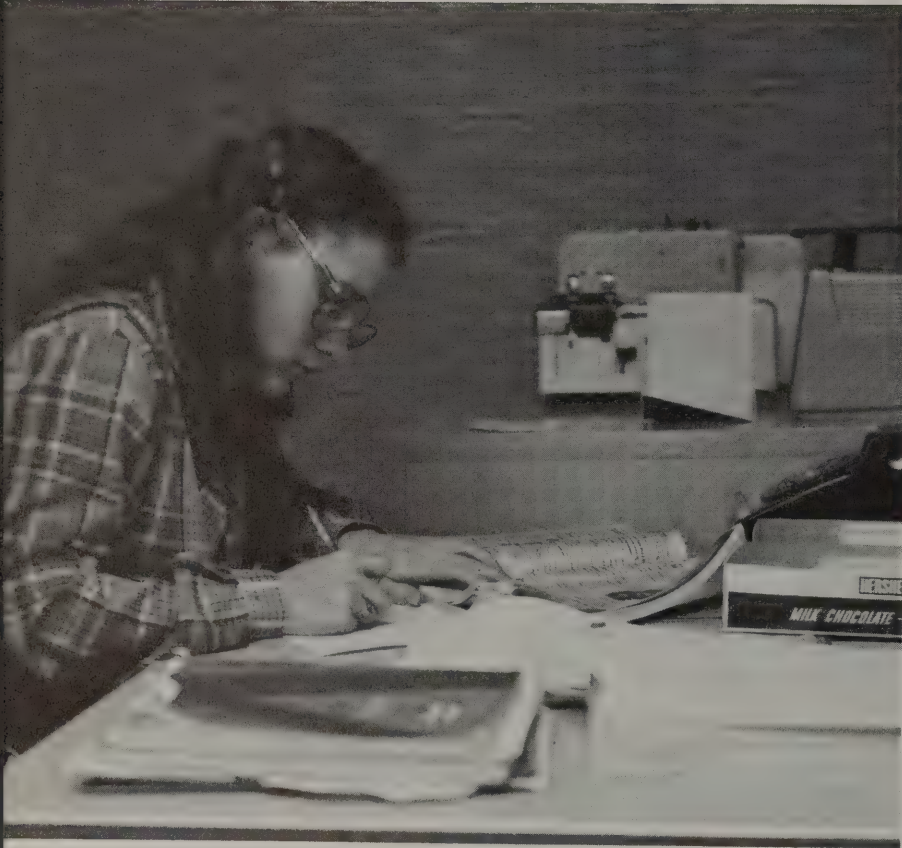

Chemistry proved to be a course of note taking, labs, and visits to the "mole room."

What other class but Physics could learn from dropping balls and drawing circles?

Business

This year, the business department offered a wide variety of courses. All classes in the business department are electives, yet a large majority of the students take them. The business classes help students develop practical skills for use in everyday life.

Some courses offered this year included Typing I, Typing II, Shorthand I, Shorthand II, Business Law, General Business, Accounting, and Office Practice.

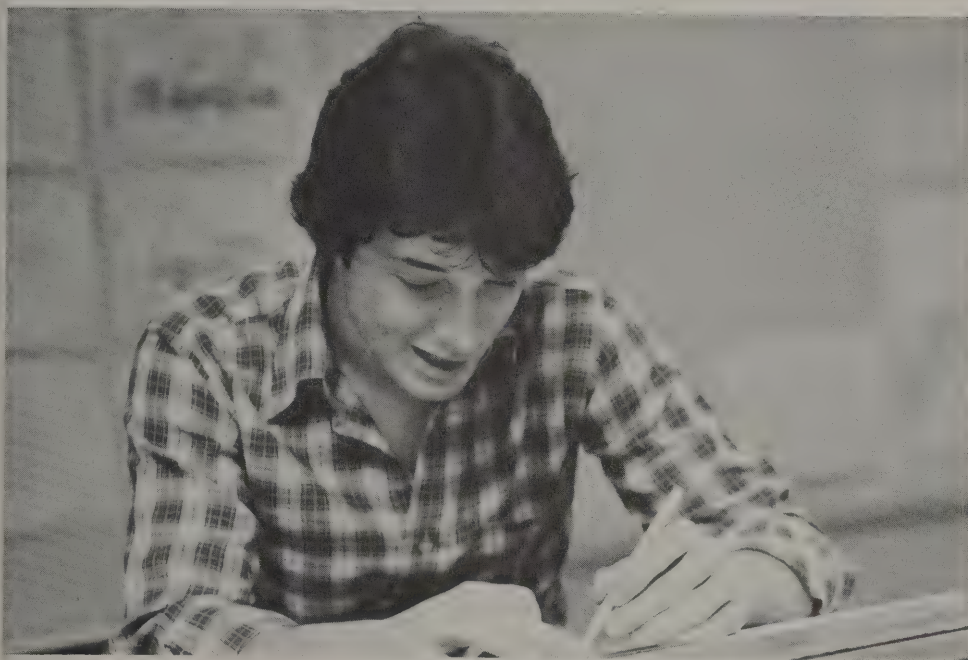

Mr. MacDonald was the department chairman. Mr. Geyer, Mrs. Hayden, and Mr. Kocsis also taught business classes. The business department had a good year.

Industrial And Vocational Arts

Miss Janet Klausing was the home economics department chairman. Classes offered this year included Family Living, Advanced Sewing, and various levels of home economics.

The home economic classes involved both cooking and sewing. Family Living taught planning for future events, such as one's wedding.

The industrial arts department was headed by Mr. Gary Kratzer. Courses offered were mechanical drawing, drafting, and Basic Industrial Arts.

The drafting classes drew full-scale plans for a house, and even built models according to their plans. In Basic Industrial Arts, shop skills such as electronics and woodworking were practiced.

Fine Arts

This year, all art department courses were taught by Sister Laura. The students not only did class work, but displayed their talents around Marian.

The art classes were responsible for decorating the main doors, the showcase outside the main office, and the library. The theme for their projects was set appropriately according to the upcoming holiday or season.

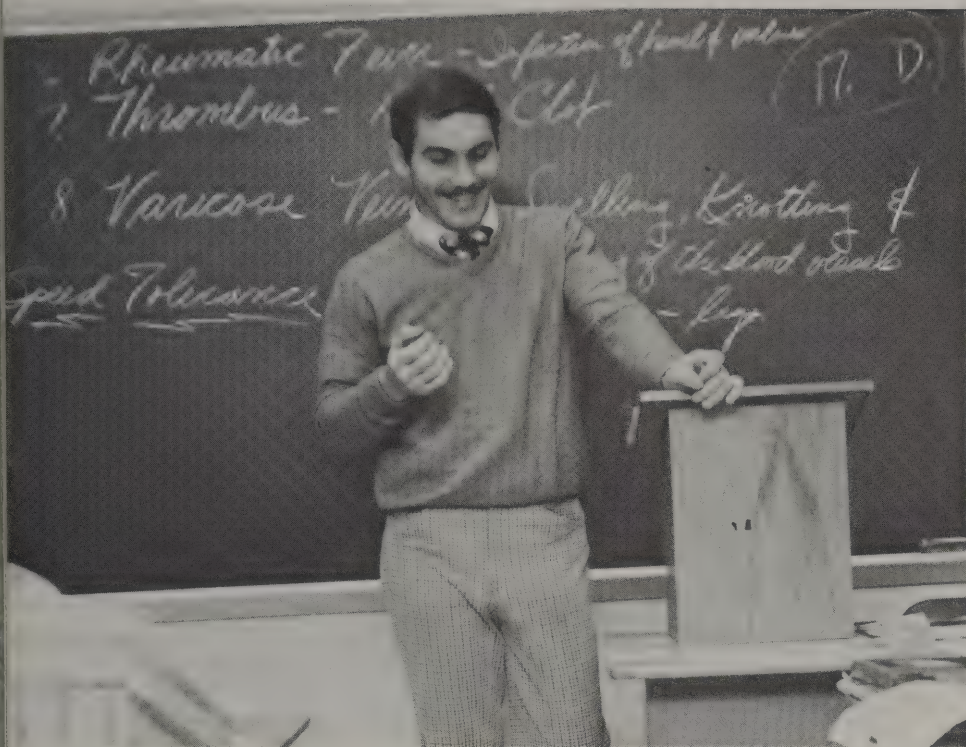

The courses offered by the art department were painting, drawing, sculpture, and crafts.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The physical education department included such classes as health and Driver's Education in addition to gym class.

Co-ed gym classes were taken by freshmen and sophomores. Health was taught to freshmen while sophomores opted for Driver's Ed.

Driver's Ed involved classroom work and road experience. The actual driving practice lasted for two weeks beginning at 6:45 a.m. each day.

The teachers in the physical education department were Mr. Ben Karasiak, Mrs. Ann DeBaets, and Mr. John Ferrettie.

Marching Band

This year's Marching Band, under the direction of Mr. Roger Voelker, consisted of Band, Pep Band, and the Drill Team. The Drill Team was directed by Cindie Hatfield.

The Marching Band performed during the half time for every home football and basketball game.

They were together in everything they did, during the bad times as well as during the good times.

Pep And Jazz Bands

This year, the pep band and the jazz band were under the direction of Mr. Roger Voelker.

The pep band performed at all home basketball games, providing music for the fans, and performing at halftime, playing such songs as "Ease On Down the Road." They also played at all pep rallies. New instruments were added to the pep band this year, including a piano, an electric guitar, and an electric bass.

The jazz band was very busy this year. They gave two concerts, one at Christmas and one in May. The jazz band performed in the Talent Show held in March, and performed during an in-school assembly in May.

Beth Kellogg was the president of the whole band organization, including the marching band, pep band, concert band, and jazz band. Loretta Kensinger was vice-president, with Amy Kellogg as secretary and Jim Bolinger as treasurer.

CHOIR

The Marian Girls' Choir was under the direction of Mr. Roger Voelker this year.

Choir is a class that all members must take. In the class, the girls learn basic vocal skills and breathing techniques.

The choir gave two concerts along with the jazz band. The first concert took place at Christmas, the second in May. The choir also performed at an in-school assembly held in May, much to the enjoyment of the students.

AWARDS NIGHT

Awards Night was held May 23, in the gym. Both students and parents attended. Mr. Haas gave the keynote address, while the department heads also addressed the audience before their respective presentation of individual awards.

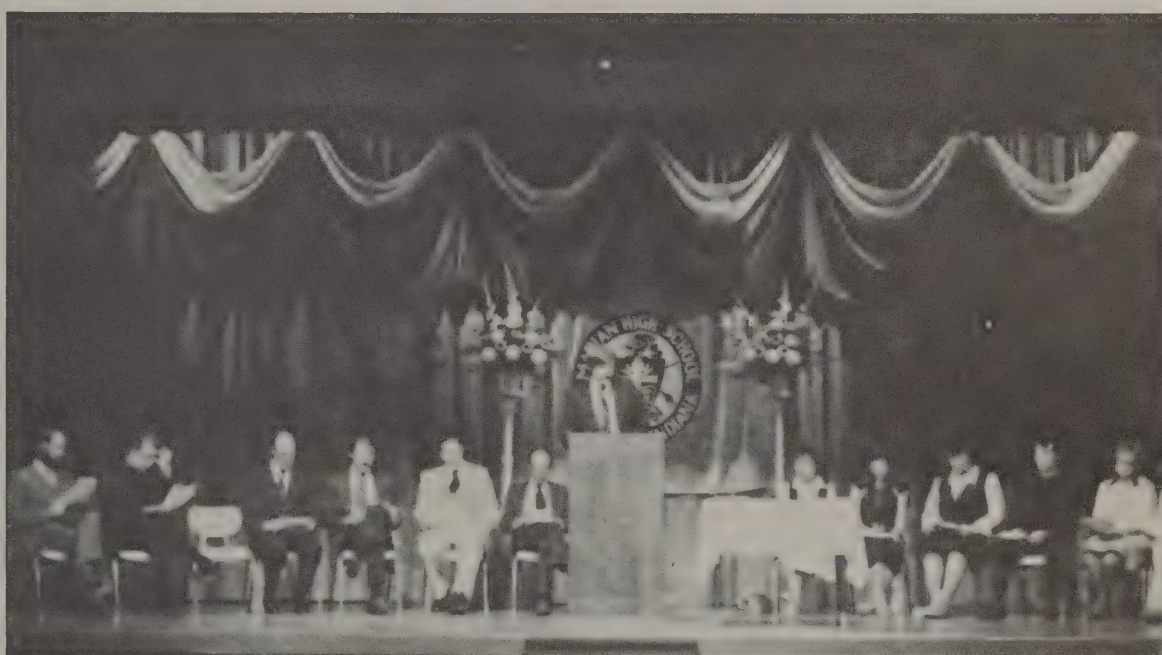

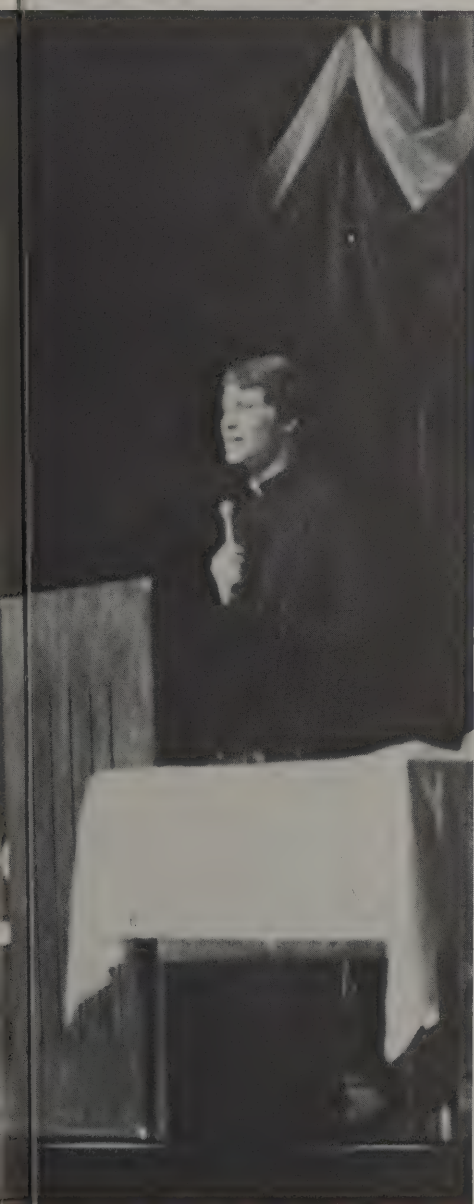

Awards were given out in all areas of study, including Business, Social Studies, Religion, Physical Education, Science, English, Foreign Language, Math, Home Economics, and Industrial Arts. Those participating in student publications also received awards. Senior scholarship recipients were also named during the course of the night.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria after the ceremonies were concluded.

National Honor Society

This year, the Marian chapter of the National Honor Society was headed by Mrs. Margaret DeBoer. The officers were John Curran, President, Joan Moran, Vice-President, Heidi Rosenbaum, Treasurer, and Julie Coussens, Secretary.

New members were inducted into the society on November 14. Mr. James Finley gave the key note address. After the ceremony a reception was held in the cafeteria for the members and their parents.

The NHS did many things to benefit the school and helped with negotiated tuition. The NHS also sponsored bingo parties at two local nursing homes and co-sponsored Las Vegas Night with the Student Council.

Athletics

Cheerleaders Lead School Spirit

Part of any school's success in any sport is due to student fan participation and the cheerleaders. They put in a lot of extra time making signs, planning pep rallies and conjuring up skits, as well as psyching up the team at an actual game.

Pep rallies themselves also do a lot for a team's morale. It's there that the team is given an opportunity to see all the support they have and it gives them just that added incentive that may make for a winning season. Cheerleaders really do help school spirit.

Harriers Break Even

The 1979 harriers, guided by 3rd-yr. coach Steve Rethlake, ran their way to a successful 8-8 season. Along the way, the Knights compiled some impressive victories, including near shutouts of Oregon-Davis and arch-rival St. Joseph's.

In one of the last home meets of the season, however, the runners fell short of their bid for a winning season as they were beaten, 28-28 by a strong Concord team on a tie-breaker.

Despite this loss, however, Coach Rethlake was satisfied with this year's team and is looking forward to next year when 4 out of his top 5 runners will be returning. These include Most Valuable on page 136.

KNIGHTS DON'T QUIT

The 1979 Marian Varsity Football team overcame much adversity to keep the tradition of Marian High School alive, never having had a losing season in its history. During pre-season, it looked as if depth would not be a problem to this year's squad. Inexperience seemed the key enemy. As the season progressed and the depth was cancelled out by injuries, the inexperienced became the experienced out of necessity.

The Knights won their opener against Ft. Wayne Luers, but after six games, they found themselves at 2-4 and going down hill. All was not lost, however; four games had yet to be played. The team rebuilt attitudes and strengthened injured bodies. They improved execution on offense and aggressiveness on defense. The work and rebuilding process paid off the next week at Lowell. The win over Lowell was impressive, but the players returned home with an empty feeling. They had still not beaten a good ball team. The next week was Homecoming and the pressure was on the players not only to win but to show the home crowd and alumni that Marian Football had not died. The Knights did not disappoint the home crowd and, in fact, played excellent football against a good opponent.

The next week the squad defeated Gary Roosevelt and boosted their record to 5-4. After this game the team had a winning record for the first time since the first game of the season. However, the season ended with a blemish, the loss occurred at Bloomington. The Knights who finished with five wins and five losses had something to be proud of. The players and coaches never gave up on themselves or each other. That's what had been the catalyst of Marian Football since the first season in 1964!

FROSH GRIDDERS WIN CITY

The Freshmen football team accomplished one of the school's best records on the Freshmen level with a record of 8-1. Hardware was collected by this team as they were Eastern Division Champions of the N.I.V.C. with a record of 7-1. The second trophy was captured by the Freshmen as they defeated the Western Division Champion, Washington 8-0 and won the N.I.V.C. conference. This task has not been accomplished by a Marian team since 1968.

The success of the team was its ability to win the close games and the overall team depth. Individual standouts were: Louis Kostielney, leading tackler, Bob Egyhazi, leading scorer; Vince DelPrete, leading pass receiver; and Dan Molnar and Phil Lowe, the leading ground gainers.

The Freshmen were coached by Mike Lightfoot and assisted by Jeff Ziegler.

Marian's Varsity Volleyball team returned to area prominence in 1979, winning the Elkhart Sectional and capturing second place in the Goshen Regional before falling to top-ranked South Bend Adams in the Regional Championship Match. Along the way the Knights tasted defeat only five times while achieving an incredible total of 17 victories, including decisions over cross-town rivals Penn and Mishawaka.

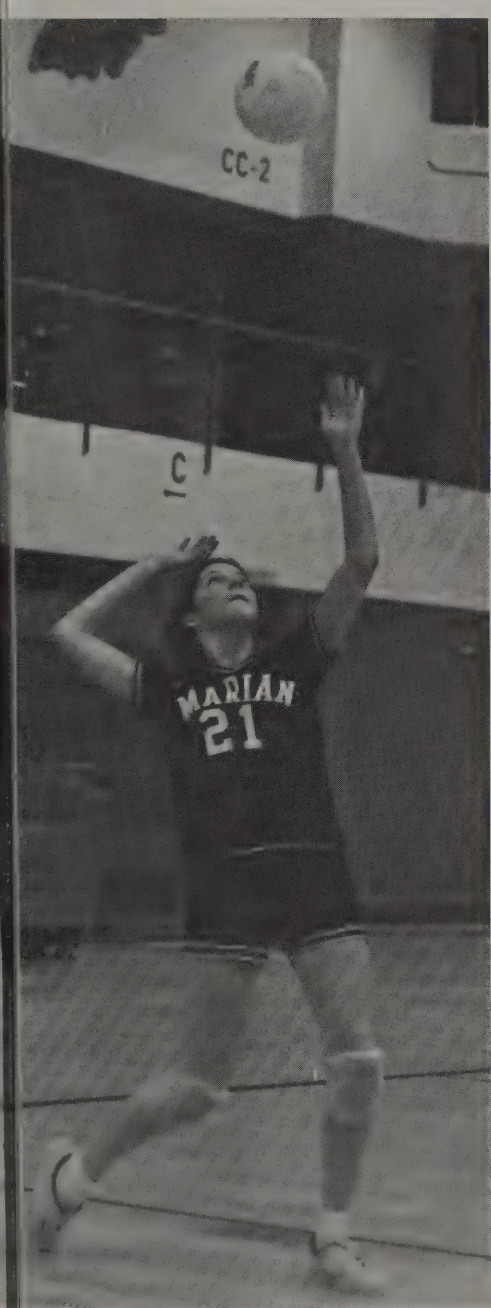

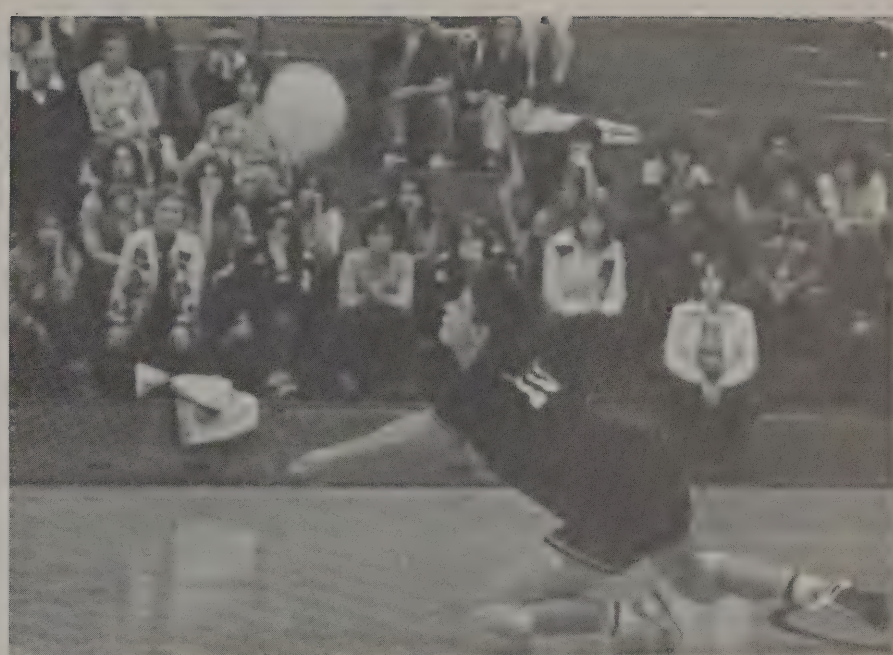

Marian's B-team was itself no less than spectacular in 1979, as the girls blitzed their competition on the way to a 15-3 record and a first-place finish in the St. Joseph Valley J.V. Tournament.

A valuable asset to both the varsity and B-team this year was the immense depth available to Coach DeBaets at every position. This enabled her at times to make wholesale substitutions without any significant loss of talent.

FROSH CONTINUE TRADITION

THE 1979 Freshman Volleyball squad appeared ready to continue the winning traditions set forth by the varsity and B teams in 1979. Talent abounded at every position, and with a team spirit rarely matched at any level of athletic competition, the frosh lived up to the best of expectations. # Frosh Aid Netters Paced by the leadership of the Seniors and the enthusiasm of the Freshmen, the tennis team enjoyed one of its finest seasons ever. Against a tough schedule that featured several state-ranked squads the Knights won 12 and lost 7.

Senior Captain Joe Rosenthal won the Mental Attitude Award, and Sophomore Nort Flood was named the Most Improved. Freshman Pete Bauer won the M.V.P. award and set a school record for consecutive victories (18) and the best individual season record (18-1).

Regarding this year's team, first-year coach Mark Wurfel commented, "The victories over Concord and Culver Military Academy were the most important. I'll be sorry to lose our Seniors, but with the talent the squad has returning for next year it is clear that Marian tennis is on its way up."

Girls Swimming Has A Record-Breaking Season

After facing the possibility of having no swim team, the aquaknights finished their season with a 2-10 record. The team was under the direction of first year coach Debbie Brennan.

The aquaknights were helped by a large turnout of underclassmen, who had made up 80% of the squad. Coach Brennan has great expectations for the future of this squad.

This year the swim team has met several team as well as personal goals. Records were set by soph. Amy Sonneborn, jr. Janet Greer, and srs. Laurie Banes and Sue Call.

Soccer Improves

The Marian Soccer Club, although young and inexperienced, did much better on the whole in the 79-80 season than in any other season since the club began. After the graduation of many strong seniors, the club trained many new players who have all supported the team well. With experience and teamwork, they will see quite a few winning seasons in the years to come.

REBUILDING YEAR FOR ICERS (AGAIN)

The 1979-80 Hockey Team skidded to a disappointing season mark. Though they saw their ranks decimated by injuries along the way, the knights remained competitive, ending their regular season on an upbeat note by tying Perennial rival Elkhart. This standoff, while not as satisfying as a victory would have been, was still a special one, as Elkhart had defeated the knights in a previous meeting.

Prospects look good for next year's team, even though co-captains Joe Rice and Kevin Killilea and senior Bill Bickel all will be departing. Many underclassmen will be returning, including next year's captains, Austin Drinkall and Paul Santerre. With the experience gained from this year's campaign the knights should be a team to watch next year.

GRAPPLERS IMPROVE

The 1979-80 Marian Grapplers posted a much improved 9-6 dual meet record this year. Their improvement was promoted by the excellent coaching of Head Coach John Kovatch and Assistant coach Jeff Ziegler. Kovatch, in his second year as head coach predicted a 9-6 Record and fell right on target.

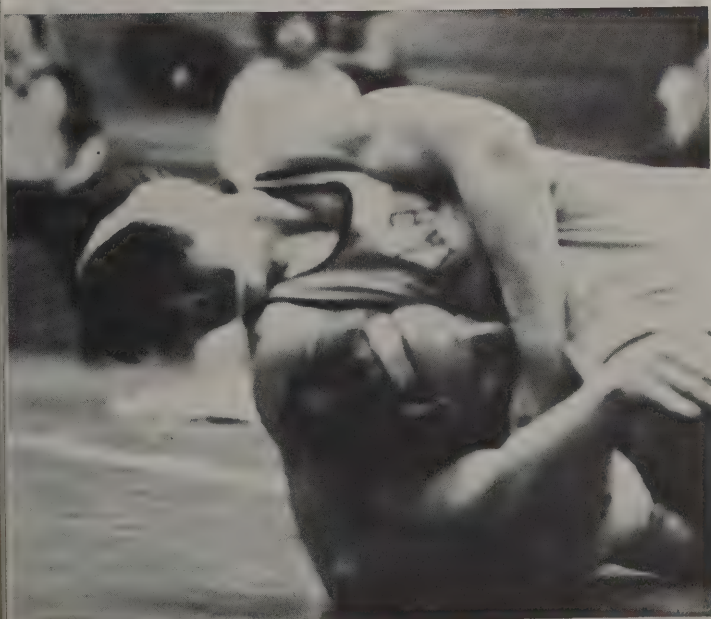

At the Bremen tournament the Knights didn't do as well as was expected, having only one wrestler in the finals. Their wrestler was heavy-weight Scott DeHart, who was able to claim a second place at the tournament. When sectionals arrived, Marian had two grapplers advance (cont'd pg. 136)

The success of the team can be directed to the team's depth and attitude. Leading the Knights in scoring and rebounding was Paul Moreland.

Coach Lightfoot skillfully guided the Frosh Knights to a winning season. Next year, Coach Lightfoot will be coaching the varsity basketball team.

NETTERS LOOKING FOR TURN AROUND SEASON

This year's Girls' Tennis team was under the direction of first-year coach, Mrs. Sandy Hayden.

The team had two major setbacks during the season; one was the lack of available court space, the other was the fact that the team was so young, for there was only one graduating senior.

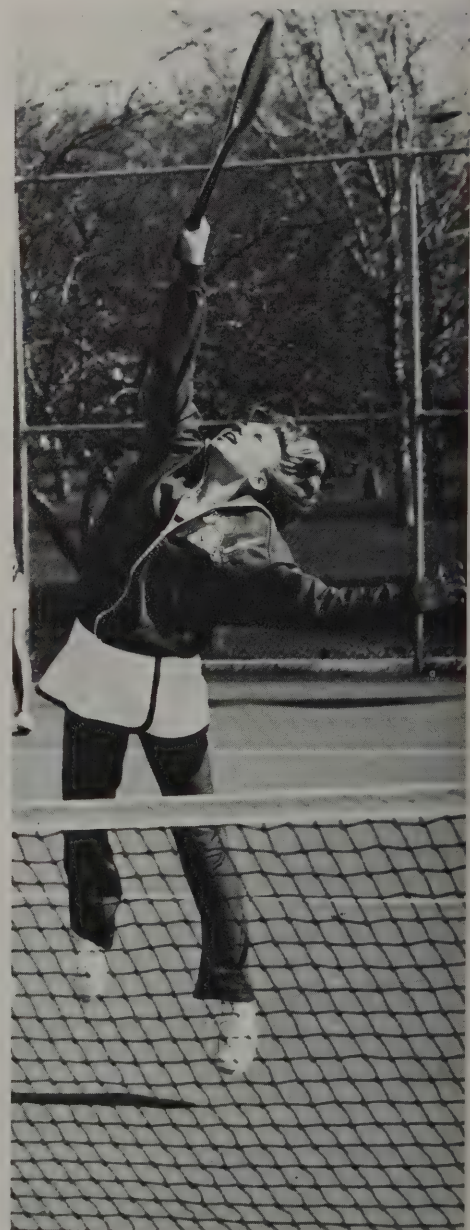

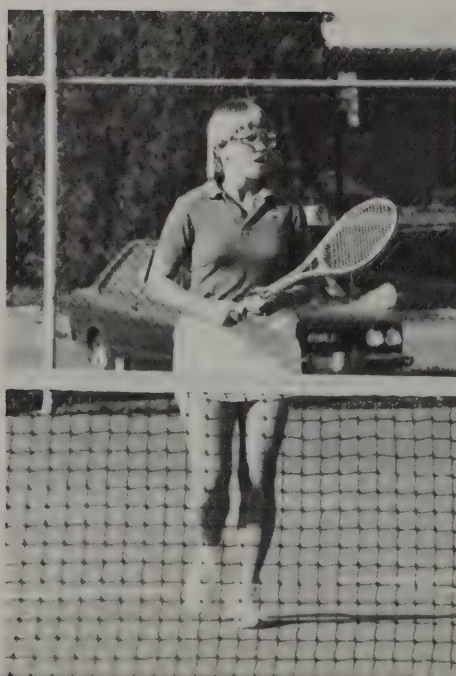

Melanie Zietler was named the most valuable player on the team at the sports banquet. Other award winners were Jan Odekerk, Most Improved; and Cindy Covert, Mental Attitude.

The girls had a 5-9 season, but worked hard throughout the year.

Diamondmen Prove Strong

The 1980 diamondmen got off to a slow start but came on strong at the end of the season to compile a season record of 12-18. Led by MVP hurler Joe Yates, they then charged into the Elkhart sectional rolling decisively past Concord and Northridge to gain a berth in the final game against Penn. It was the classic match-up between an irresistible force and an immovable object, but luck was with the Kingsmen as they prevailed, 3-2, in the closest game in the history of the sectional.

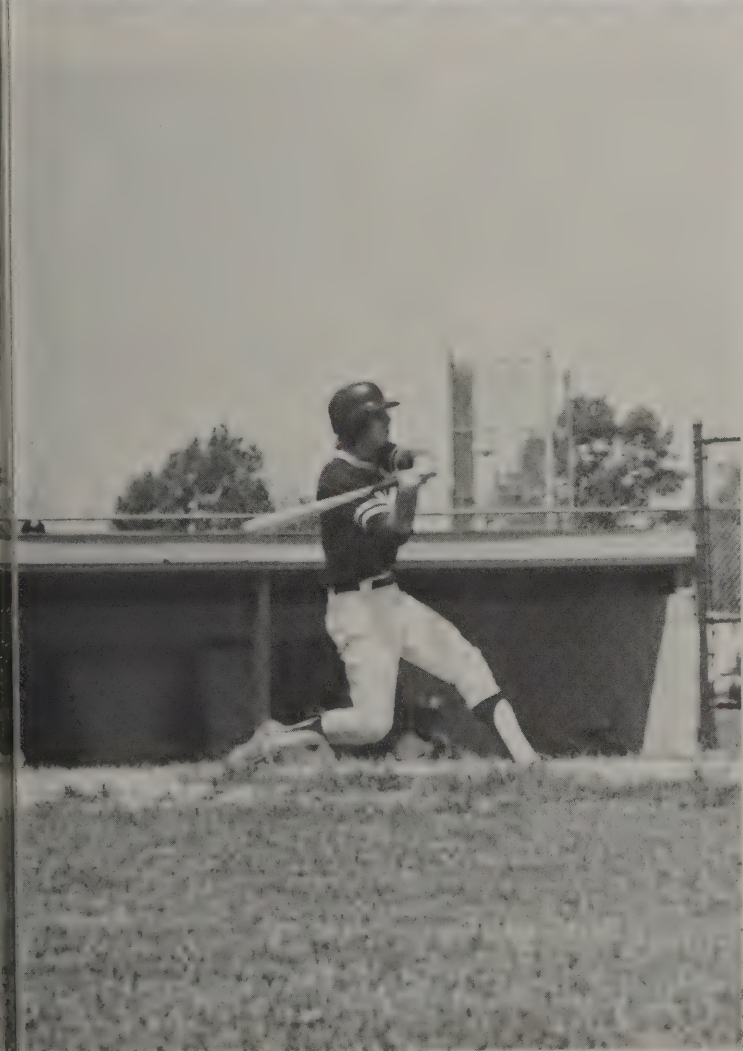

Though the Knights will lose 5 seniors, including Yates and MA winner John Kopec, they should once again be formidable, returning 10 starters, among whom will be MIP Wally Galvas and pitcher Pat Foster.

Softballers Strive For Better Season

The 1980 Softballers, under the tutelage of first year coach Jim Kocsis, compiled a respectable record of 7-10. Along the way the Knights defeated powerful archrival St. Joe, not once, but twice!

Prospects for next year are excellent, as all but one member of the team will return. That one member, however, is MVP Mary Wernsing, and her loss will surely be felt.

The other award winners are MIP Denise Austin and MA Tina Galvas.

RULE GIRLS INTRAMURALS

Girls intramurals started off better this year than it has in the past. Instead of playing volleyball the girls played basketball. Eight teams participated this year. They were the BCKettes, Brewsadettes, Ladies of the Knights, Eveready, Super Six, Red Hots, and the M & M. Each team played four games in the season plus the tournament.

The M & M turned in the most successful season with an 8-0 record and they defeated every team they played by a margin of 19 points or more. Intramurals were supervised by Mr. Steve Rethlake.

FACULTY REMAINS UNDEFEATED

Intramurals were once again a successful event during the winter months. The Junior-Senior division was composed of 10 teams. The best team, as usual, was the Faculty, which remained undefeated throughout the season. Other teams were: B.C.K., Senior Slam, Seven-Sevens, Gonads, Brewsaders, Ryan's Hope, 69'ers, Zeros, and who could forget "The WHO."

The games and tournament were scheduled and supervised by Mr. DeVreese. Each team played at least 10 games during the year, the finalist teams playing 13 games. The finals of the tournament drew a large gathering, with the Faculty outscoring the B.C.K. by 10 points.

Freshmen

It's a big step from grade school to high school as over 150 freshmen found out this year. Because they came from many different schools, it was an ideal time to meet new people and make new friends, which was exactly what they did!

There were many things the new Marian students had to get used to. The most frequent complaint was, "There's too much homework!"

But there was another side to frosh life too! In addition to increased schoolwork, the frosh found their social lives grew richer. So over all, the frosh had a good year. Of course, the adjustments were many, but then so were the fun times!

Sophomores

The Sophomores started the school year in the same hall they left behind in June. Various responses could be heard ranging from "What—the same hall?" to "Well, we didn't all deserve to be flunked!"

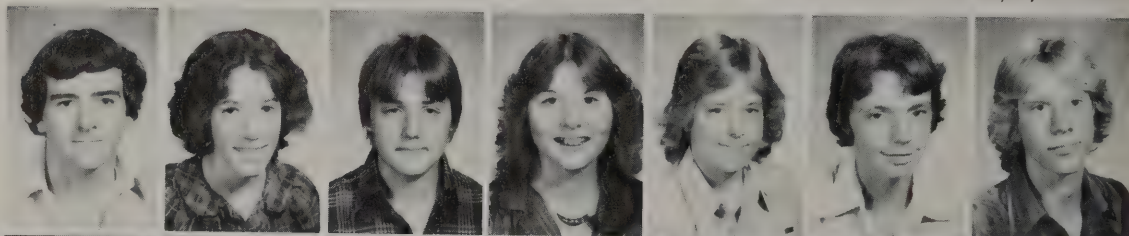

As the year progressed they found themselves drowning in school work. BSCS and Geometry soon became the most dreaded enemies. And for some the most horrible task of their lives materialized: TERM PAPER.

The class of 1982 was also known for their social lives. Getting their licenses was a big step for them. Another phase of soph year was the ordering of school rings. They made a difficult year a lot of fun. Good luck in everything you do, class of '82.

Juniors

One of the highlights of the junior year was the ceremony of receiving class rings. This year Father Schooler celebrated the mass, which was followed by passing out the rings. Afterwards, a reception was held.

The major goal of the class of '81 was to plan a memorable prom. With so many people involved, its success was guaranteed. On May 17th, at the Century Center, it proved to be well worth the effort in preparing for it.

The juniors were also known for their rowdiness. This was shown especially during Spirit Week, when they chose the theme of "powerful knights." Remember the "silent cheer"?

Junior year was also an academic challenge. With Chemistry and U.S. History, the midnight oil burned constantly. But classes were made more exciting with visits to the "mole room" and Alistair Cooke.

This memorable year ended with anticipation of becoming seniors.

Seniors

Graduation came too soon for some and not soon enough for others. After being at Marian for four years, the class of 1980 realized high school was over forever, and a new life was about to begin.

Only memories remain. Remember "The Connection", and the "Ku Klux Klan March", Homecoming and Spirit Days, intramurals and BCK, cruising and partying. Relationships grew stronger, as the seniors recalled the saying, "Make new friends but keep the old, one is silver and the other gold."

The seniors have influenced Marian High School greatly and they will never be forgotten. Fifty years from now they will look back on their lives and remember the "good-ole days" here at Marian.

SENIORS' LAST WEEK

Our final week began with the Prom, for most of us the last Marian sponsored dance we'd ever attend. The evening had been initiated in a special way when Fr. Schooler celebrated a mass in our honor.

After the prom, we partied . . . and partied . . . and then it was Monday. Still groggy from the weekend before, we had no time to reflect on what had been, for finals were suddenly imi-nent. Even in this atmosphere of seriousness, however, our generosity shone through as we unselfishly shared our lunches with the Juniors and anyone else within range. (This gesture of love, unfortunately, was not viewed as such by all our friends in the admin., and we sincerely regretted that misunderstanding).

Most of us took our finals seriously the first day, but Thursday began with perhaps the greatest mass transportation effort in the history of Marian High School. Amid epithetical tributes to the Dean of Discipline, we invaded the hallway. As we staggered into our first-hour classes and stared blankly at our exams; the word of survival took on a new meaning.

Finally, however, exams were over and we were OUT!

GRADUATION

Then came Baccalaureate. We gathered at St. Matt's for our final Mass as a class and the Bishop sprinkled water on us. Then we went to Joe Weber's house and did the same to Fr. Schooler . . . only on a somewhat grander scale.

The next day was Sunday. At about 1:30, we gathered in the cafeteria prior to our grand entrance into the gym. After listening to the valedictory and salutatory addresses, we listened enthusiastically to Mr. Joseph Dillon. Then, finally, we received our diplomas.

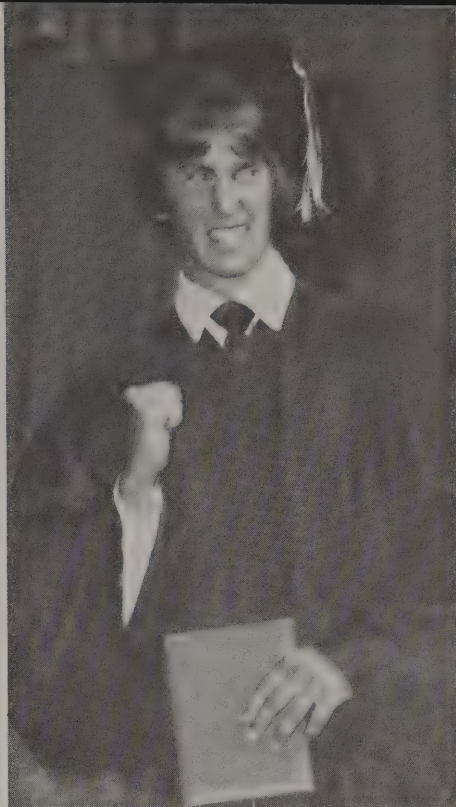

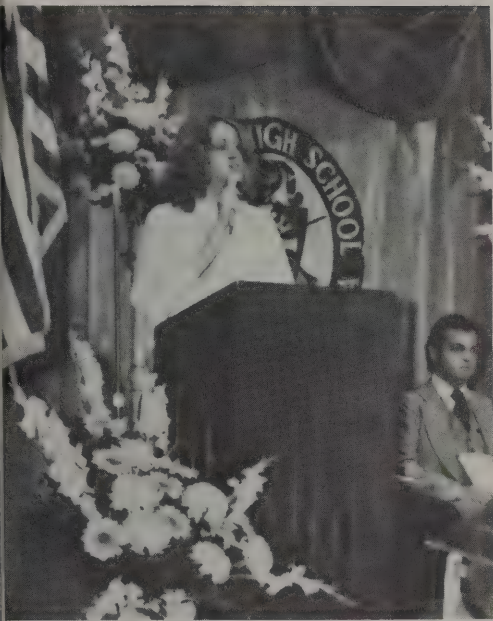

We were perhaps a little saddened to be leaving these four good years behind, but for most of us, anticipation of what was to come outweighed all longing for the past.

If your score totals one (1) or more, the Wheelabrator® process already has touched your life.

The Wheelabrator Process helps things work better, look better, last longer, cost less.

Almost any product you see or use that has cast or forged metal, fabricated or structural steel, molded rubber or plastic components, probably was exposed as it was made to one of our cleaning and finishing processes.

Because industry uses our equipment and systems—airless abrasive blast cleaning or precision vibratory finishing—for surface preparation on an endless variety of products and parts—everything from a tiny typewriter gear to an entire railroad car.

Our processes and systems also are environmentally engineered, to do their essential work without polluting the air, land or water about us.

So besides helping to make your life a little more comfortable and convenient, we're working to make our world a little cleaner at the same time.

Congratulations to graduates of

This yearbook was the product of many individual efforts. I would like to thank the following people, for, without their help, we could not have had a successful yearbook: Mrs. Bauters, for selling the book and for all the mimeographing she did; Mrs. Hawkins, for keeping the book in the black; all the people who opened the room up (and let us work late); and to my parents for their love and support. I give a special thanks to Mr. Ailes and Mrs. Daley for all the ideas, direction and patience they gave.

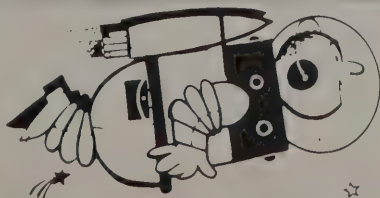

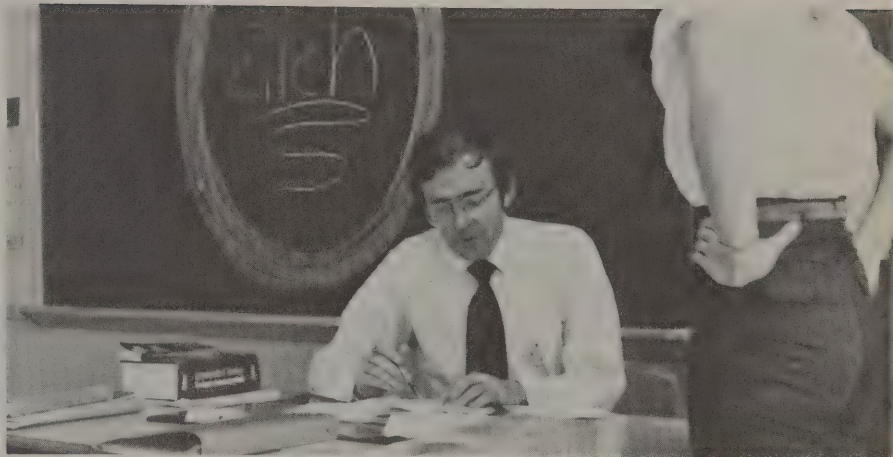

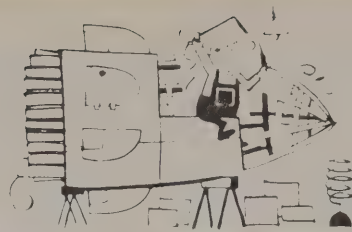

Certain members of the staff deserve special recognition for their dedication to the yearbook throughout the year. These staff members are Kathy Shannon—Academics Editor; Joan Moran—Student Life Editor; Janet Greer—Advertisement, Photography, and whatever had to be done. And also Susan Rogan, who at the beginning was just working on the sports section but at the end was the Editor. Many people that were not members of the staff deserve special recognition also: Lisa Shaffer, thanks for the help in early June; Joe Rice, the copy was greatly appreciated; Piker and Popo, for the captions you wrote, no matter what state of mind you were in; and to Coaches Lightfoot and Wurfel, for writing copy for their respective sports. Most important of all, thanks to the people that supported the Madrigal by buying a copy of it.
